

Introduction

When new people start at the pub, you may need to add a new user, so that they can make changes to the site. Similarly, when people leave, you may need to delete their accounts.

Once you have logged in, click the 'Users' from the dashboard or from the left side menu:

You should see something similar to this screen (there will probably be more users):

